EQUAL SUFFRAGE UP TO U.S. SENATE

The question of permitting the States to say whether they want equal suffrage by the usual constitution method is now up to the United States Senate, a body that sometimes seems to cast suspicion on its democracy. What Senators Pomerene and Harding think of equal suffrage we are not particularly informed, but hope they will line up with and cast their votes for the best half of the people of the United States. We take it women of the United States. We take it women are people. Just why one-half of hu-manity should have the privilege of vot-ing and denying the other half the same thing has always "got our goat. We have heard many fool argument why it should be so, but never none that was

We very sincerely believe there are a great many women who have not sufficient sense to vote intelligently on any subject. We know there are hosts of men in that class, who strut about as so many peacocks and nearly as wise as owls. There is not much difference between a woman who bestows her affections on a poodle dog and men who wallow in the gutter, booze-soaked, cig-arette fiends, degenerates and a host of other celebrities that wouldn't pass muster in any field. Perhaps the com-parison is odious—we feel that way—and beg the poodle worshiper's pardon.

Are men afraid of being contaminated by coming in contact with their mothers, wives and sisters at the voting booth? If so, it might be arranged to have the of the German mark in neutral mar-men vote in the morning and the women kets is pointed to as an indication of in the afternoon. Other little safeguards might be provided to protect the bums and half-breeds who are fearful something might befall the government. They are confident the women who keep the family together by rubbing their knuckles on the washboard and provid-ing them a place to lodge are unfitted to vote. As these are the most potent reasons against women voting, we beg our Senators to overlook these defects of their sisters and answer "aye" when the proposed measure of referring the question of votes for women to the states. Common justice demands it. If it is not out of order, who gave men the right to vote? Don't all speak at once.

Saloons Were Open.

Cincinnati, Jan. 22.-Most of the saloons here were open Monday, bartenders working in sweaters and overcoats in an atmosphere of not more than 40 degrees. British forces operating in Fales tine made another advance at a point twelve miles north of Jerusalem. London announced on Jan. 21 that military operations are increasing on the western front. Around Ypres, between Lens and St. Quentin on the Chemin-des-Dames, on the Rhine-Marne canal there has been a notable increase in infantry activity.

In a naval action between British and Turkish forces at the entrance to the Dardanelles, the Turkish cruiser Midullu, formerly the German cruiser Breslau, was sunk and the Sultan Yawuz Selim, formerly the Goeben, was beached. The British lost two monitors.

Berlin reported on Jan. 22 that the German and Ukrainian governments K. Armend Graves, an alleged Gerat Brest-Litovsk had reached an agreement on peace. Ukrainia is a large district lying in southern Rusia between the river Don and the Austro-Hungarian frontier. It borders on the Black sea. It also was announced that peace negotiations was resumed with the Bolsheviki goverament.

The crisis in Austria arising from discontent of the people over continuation of the war, scarcity of food and a general desire for peace resulted in the resignation of the Austrian cabinet. Nationwide strikes and disorders have been reported.

Berlin announced, Jan. 24, a raid by the Germans on French positions east of Nieuport, where a footing was gained. The French war office announced, however, that the ground gained by the Germans was retaken by the French by a rapid counter attack.

Artillery and infantry activity is reported increasing all along the western front. The Italians made gains in minor operations against the Austrians along the Italian front.

CRITICISES DRESS OF THE SELECTS

Inspector Says Men's Appearance Is Unsatisfactory.

LACK OF UNIFORMITY NOTED

Some Draftees Found at Camp Sherman Who Still Lack Parts of the Regulation Outfit, According to General Helmick-Has Praise For Condition of Dining Rooms and Sleeping Quarters.

Chillicothe, O., Jan. 24.-Unfavorable comment upon the general appearance of the selects at Camp Sherman is expressed in a memorandum by Brigadier General E. A. Helmich of the inspection general's department at Washington, who recently concluded a 10-day investigation of conditions at the camp.

The condition of the dining room tables and the squad rooms, where the selects sleep, were praised by the general, who also advised officers that an appreciable saving in fue' could be made by certain improvements of the stoves and ranges in use.

Commenting on the dress and appearance of the division, General Helmick states that it was unsatisfactory. He points out that the lack of uniformity in clothing detracted greatly from the otherwise military whose men are still wearing parts of vere censure by the inspector, who found upon investigation that either proper method of obtaining the necessary clothing.

Some selects were found who have been in camp two months and stilt lack parts of their regulation outfit, according to the general. He also Russia and their uncertain attitude states that some soldiers were found reason whatever.

Officers in charge of regiments and sians apparently are sticking just as other organizations have been in structed to permit the wearing of knitted helmets, mufflers and wristlets furnished by the Red Cross, produring street fighting, the Russian vided only that they are worn when climate conditions make it necessary and that at such times all men in the units be required to wear the same
